Mr. Bland's Silver Bill Taken Up.

Secretary Carlisle Interested in the Measure.

He Makes Certain Objections Thereto.

The Railroad Men Present a Protest in the Senate—Senator Stewart's Resolution on the Bond Issue Discussed—Other Capital News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The deadlock on Representative Bland's silver seigniorage bill was broken after four hours' continuous filibustering today when, by a vote of 176 to 4, the house carried his motion to go into committee of the whole for consideration of the bill.

The Eastern Democrats and the great mass of Republicans made a determined opposition, but Mr. Bland was victuous. On the final vote sixteen Republicans and all the Populists voted with him, while twenty-two Democrats joined the remainder of the Republicans in refusing to vote. It is thoroughly understood that quite a number of Democrats who voted with Mr. Bland were not in favor of certain modifications of the bill, although they would not carry their opposition to the extent of voting against it.

Senator Carlisle opposed the bill and presented a resolution declaring it the duty of Congress to pass a law legalizing the recent issue of bonds, as he believed that without such a law the bonds now being sent out would be without validity or legal effect.

In opposing the motion for reference, Senator Peffer contended that the Secretary of the Treasury had not even pretended that the money derived from the bonds was to be used for redemption purposes.

At 2 o'clock, the matter being still undisposed of, the unfinished business of the day came up. Senator Stewart was granted unanimous consent that the resolution retain its place on the calendar. The unfinished business was the House bill to require railroad companies operating railroads in the Territories, over right-of-way granted by the government, to establish stations and depots at all town-sites on lines of roads established by the Interior Department.

Pending discussion of the bill and before a vote could be taken on its passage, the hour of 3 o'clock arrived and the special order was taken up, being a memorial resolution in memory of Representative Mutchler of Pennsylvania, who died at the beginning of the present Congress. Addresses were delivered by Senators Quay, Mitchell, Bennett and several others, and at 3:25 o'clock the Senate adjourned until Monday next.

At the day Senators Gray and Daniel gave notice that they would on Monday address the Senate on the Hawaiian question.

HOUSE.—Representative Bland moved to go into committee of the whole to consider his silver seigniorage bill. It was lost for the lack of a quorum, 106 to 6. A quorum was finally secured, 177 to 4, and the House went into committee of the whole.

Representative Hatch took the chair, and Mr. Bland took the floor in advocacy of the bill. He waited at once upon an explanation of the provisions of the bill, but, without concluding his speech, yielded to a motion that the committee rise, an arrangement having been made that filibustering was to cease. With this understanding, upon Bland's motion so much of the resolution passed last night as directed the sergeant-at-arms to arrest the absentees was revoked. At 4:50 p.m. the House adjourned.

PROTECTIONISTS.

The Republican Senators to Vote Against the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The possible attitude of the silver Republicans with reference to the tariff bill has been a theme of considerable talk about the Senate since the Wilson bill reached that body.
Inquiry develops the fact that they will, without exception, oppose the bill for two reasons. They are protectionists in principle and some of them think that if the tariff could be allowed to remain as it is at present it would be in the interest of silver. They argue that if the tariff is changed and hard times continue many will be disposed to find in this change the cause of the depression, whereas if the tariff is allowed to remain as it is and times do not improve it will at once become apparent that the tariff had not caused the dullness, and people will be led to believe that it was due to the scarcity of money.

While, however, the silver Republicans will oppose the bill, will vote against it and will make special effort to defeat the clause bearing upon the special interests of their several States, it is probable that some of them will not aid their Republican colleagues in securing delay upon the passage of the bill.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) Senator Wolcott of Colorado presented a resolution for the submission of a Constitutional amendment prohibiting the States from denying suffrage to any person on account of sex.

Senator Sherman presented a memorial to the wool-growers against the Wilson bill, saying that the Finance Committee refused the woolgrowers a hearing and requesting that the memorial be printed. It was so ordered.

Senator Wolcott presented several amendments to the tariff bill.

Resolutions of the Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association, and American Railway Union, protesting against the rulings of the United States Courts on the question of strikes, were presented by Senator Voorhees and ordered printed for the use of the Senate.

A letter from the Secretary of the Treasury was laid before the Senate in reply to the resolution of Senator Peffer adopted some days ago, calling for the names of bondholders, the amounts of bonds issued and the rate of interest.

The resolution of Senator Stewart denying the right of the Secretary of the Treasury to issue United States bonds and questioning their validity came up as regular order with various pending amendments.

Senator Butler said the legal questions involved in the resolution and amendments were of such importance that he believed the resolution should go to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Stewart, after some colloquy, accepted the amendment heretofore proposed by Senator Dubois, adding to the resolution the declaration that "there is no present necessity for the sale of bonds for any purpose specified under the resumption act."

Senator Morrill made a point that the effect of the adoption of such a resolution would be to deny the power of the Secretary to re-issue United States notes returned to him in the course of treasury business.

Senator Quay opposed reference of the resolution to the Judiciary Committee.
"The Senators from South Carolina (Butler) and Ohio (Sherman) will know," said he, "that to refer it to that committee means simply to give it a decent burial. The result will go out to the world as a justification of what the Senator from Ohio knows to be an illegal act."

Senator Teller said the recent purchase of United States bonds was a "forced" purchase. The Secretary of the Treasury had in New York stated to the bankers that if these bonds were not floated there would be a panic, a greater panic than the one last fall, and it was to avoid a panic that they reluctantly purchased bonds.

"I am not speaking as a partisan or a silver man," said Mr. Teller, "but I want to know what the American Congress is going to do with this question of deficiency. Everybody knows from the experience of the Secretary of the Treasury that no more 5 per cent. bonds on a 3 per cent. basis can be sold. It is morally certain that if another $50,000,000 were offered it would be a failure."

Senator Call opposed reference and presented a resolution declaring it the duty of Congress to pass a law legalizing
the recent issue of bonds, as he believed that without such a law the
bonds now being sent out would be without validity or legal effect.

Senator Carlisle opposed the bill and presented a resolution that the Secretary of the Treasury should be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000,000.

The convention then discussed the usefulness of the chemical engine. Chief D. T. Sullivan cited some figures in thising statistics showing the value of this apparatus. The session was followed by the adoption of a resolution setting forth that it was the opinion of the members that all fire departments should by all means be provided with chemical engines.

The electrical officers for the enforcement of the rules as follows: D. F. Sullivan of San Francisco, president; B. S. Worley of Astoria, secretary; Gardner Kellogg of Seattle, treasurer; vice-presidents T. Deasy of Victoria, S. C.; Cleland and J. Price of Portland, D. T. of Los Angeles, D. S. Merritt of Missoula, Mont., and T. L. Nichols of Silver City, N. M.

President Sullivan was duly installed, and the convention adjourned. The delegates then repaired to the office of the Fire Commissioners in the old City Hall, and inspected a number of new patents on fire apparatus devices.

THE BROTHER JONATHAN.

A Diver Claims to Have Located the Old Vessel's Hull.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) If the story told by John F. Ryan, the submarine diver, is true, the ill-starred steamer Brother Jonathan has at last been found after being almost thirty years at the bottom of the sea. The Brother Jonathan was lost on July 3, 1865, somewhere about ten miles northeast of Crescent City, and 117 of the passengers and crew perished. There was $1,000,000 in treasure on board and dozens of parties have sought systematically for the sunken hull at various times.

Ryan is in this city and his story of his discovery of the wreck is substantiated by a ship's bucket bearing the name "Brother Jonathan" in brass letters, which he picked up on the deck of the wreck. He says: "Several years ago while operating a steamer running on Puget Sound, an old man named G. W. Hill, hearing that I was a submarine diver, told me that I was assistant engineer of the Brother Jonathan when she foundered and was one of the nineteen survivors of a awful disaster. He would take me to the scene of the wreck and was sure he could locate the exact spot where she went down."

"A few months ago he came to me again and accepted his offer. After a long search we located her in a remarkably short time in several hundred feet of water. I went down to the vessel, walked across her deck and all around her. There was not light enough for me to see at all, and I had to feel my way everywhere. Apparently the Brother Jonathan is in excellent condition and I have hope of raising her. From what I learn, the gold in the ship is locked up in different parts of the vessel, and with the aid of light I anticipate no difficulty in locating it. In the spring I shall make preparations and recover the lost treasure."

A TRAMP KILLED.

The Leader of a Gang Filled With Buckshot by a Brakeman.

TUCSON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) A special to the Star from Lordsburg says that yesterday Michael McMillan, captain of a gang of tramps, was shot and fatally wounded by Frank Deal, a Southern Pacific brakeman.

McMillan and his crowd attempted to board a west-bound freight train at that point and conductor Hibbs ordered them to keep off. McMillan thereupon drew a pistol and started toward Hibbs. Before he had proceeded five feet, Brakeman Deal seized a shotgun and filled the tramp's back with buckshot. McMillan died in about three hours.

There may be several local associations of fruit-growers organized in this county, all of which will connect themselves with the State exchange.

TRAIN-WRECKERS.

A Horrible Crime Perpetrated in Texas.

Rails Removed at a High Bridge Over a Bayou—Cars Hurled Down the Embankment—Shot from Ambush.

By Telegraph to The Times.

HOUSTON (Tex.), Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) Tonight at the high bridge over White Oak Bayou, train-wreckers removed the rails and fishplates on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad. When a passenger train came along the engine passed safely over, but the baggage and mail coaches jumped the track and rolled down the bank, followed by the smoker, which landed on top of them. Joe Elliott, a brakeman, was sent back to flag the freight train, soon due. He had not proceeded a hundred yards when a volley from ambush was fired upon him and four bullets took effect in his body.

The crew, meantime, aided by the passengers, were at work extricating the men buried in the wrecked cars, and feared to go to the flagman's rescue. He, however, crawled bleeding and wounded back to the train. In the mail car was Lou Morris, an agent, badly bruised and with several broken bones. S. Hatton, an express messenger, was found in the car with his ribs broken, and in a critical condition. J. W. Carter, the baggagemaster, was injured about the head and internally.

A relief train was made up here and sent to the scene. The wounded were brought in and are in the hospital. Posses are on the scene and great excitement prevails.

RAISING REVENUE.

Subject Now Uppermost in the Councils of Grave Men.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The Democratic Sub-committee on Finance will make a report to the full Democratic committee next Monday and the Democratic members to the Finance committee on the following day, if present places do not interfere. The sub-committee was engaged on a bill all the afternoon, and it is understood the adjournment of the Senate till Monday was taken for the purpose of giving them the entire time for the prosecution of their labors. The sub-committee sat until after 6 o'clock tonight.

The sub-committee has been engaged almost exclusively upon the question of revenue and every day makes it plain that the bill will be devoted as largely as possible to the question of raising revenue. The committee is a unit upon this proposition and is working harmoniously in this direction.

The committee has accumulated a mass of figures giving the present receipts of the government and showing estimates on future revenues on the present basis, making calculations upon the effect of changes made in the Wilson bill, which have been suggested.

DISSATISFIED TARS.

Scant Courtesy Paid by H. M. S. Seamen to an Admiral.

HALIFAX (N. S.), Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) There is trouble amounting almost to a mutiny on the British warship Canada now in the West Indies. It has manifested itself since the ship was recommissioned.

The mutiny has been kept as quiet as possible to prevent getting into the newspapers.

The admiral visited every ship of the squadron on Christmas day and was received on all ships in a hearty manner by the men with the single exception of the crew of the Canada.

On board of that ship there were no decorations, flags, or bunting to indicate the festive season. Once a mess-table was a tin of water and a plate of the ship's biscuit. The admiral was received in silence by the men.

On December 16 the royal naval sports took place and not one of the crew of the Canada entered any of the contests. It is rumored the admiral has asked the admiral to order the Canada home.

BURBANK THEATER.—Faust.

A DOCTOR ON DRUNKENNESS.

Nowadays, when we hear and read so much of an impassioned but ignorant quality on the subject of alcoholic liquors, it is interesting, once in awhile, to come across a calm discussion of the subject from a scientific standpoint. Such is an article in a recent issue of the "North American Review" by Dr. E. F. Arnold, who treats on inebriety from a medical standpoint. As to the action of alcohol on the human system, Dr. Arnold writes as follows:

"The action of alcohol on the system is that of a narcotic poison, capable of producing death, with symptoms of brain congestion and come so closely simulating apoplexy that it is hardly a hospital for the patient which does not contain records of cases when correct diagnosis was made only on the post-mortem table."

"The immediate effect of a moderate amount of alcohol is a feeling of increased vigor. Ideas are increased in quickness, but loss of control. The system soon demands the stimulus of frequent abstinence. Abstinence is followed by suffering. The hand loses its steadiness, the brain its clearness. Insomnia adds to the drain on nervous forces, and the patient instinctively resorts for relief to the pint, which is the direct cause of his condition. In time the passions become intensified, and evidences of chronic degenerations manifest themselves. Scarcely an organ in the body is exempt. Alcohol in the stomach retards digestion by paralyzing the muscles of the stomach, by a mechanical action on the peristole of the gastric juice produces changes in the secretions of the liver, and vitiates the processes throughout the whole alimentary tract by causing a perverted action of the sympathetic nervous system. Partially digested food passes through the stomach to the intestines becomes subjected to abnormal fermentations. As a result, poisonous products, designated by modern chemists as prionines and leucamines are formed. Elimination is retarded by alcohol; consequently these poisons are retained in the system and an auto-poisoning results. The lungs and skin undertake to assist in relieving the system of effete material, as shown by the peculiar disagreeable odor of breath and perspiration persisting for many days after cessation of the use of alcohol. These symptoms will be found to suffer from chronic catarrh of most of the mucous membranes, notably the stomach, and chronic liver and kidney changes lead to cholangitis and Bright's disease. Degeneration and resultant weakening of the walls of blood-vessels predispose to rupture (usually in the brain) producing apoplexy."

A little scientific argument of this sort would go much further than all the intemperate and illogical declaimers in which "temperance" orators are so fond of indulging. Especially valuable would such information be imparted to the young in the schools. Indeed, the entire questions of physiology and hygiene should receive more attention in our public schools than they do at present. The construction of a person's body is certainly of at least as great importance as the geography of Central Africa, and yet our pupils are likely to learn three times as much of the one as of the other. Dr. Arnold does not take a favorable view of the so-called "gold-cure," which he says involves an attempt to supplant by another narcotic action the effects of the alcohol to which the patient has become accustomed. He says the system has received the unqualified condemnation of the Society for the Study of Inebriety in London. He contends that the best remedy for those who have been unfortunate as to acquire the drink habit is to adopt a line of treatment somewhat similar to that which is adopted by physicians in the treatment of chronic nervous troubles."

The financial news from Washington is more favorable, the balance in the treasury having gone above the $100,000 mark for the first time in many months. Let us hope that the improvement will spread over the country.

It is encouraging to note that a plan of inspecting immigrants at foreign ports before embarkation for this country has been approved by the House Committee on Judiciary.

The convention of chiefs of Pacific Coast fire departments in session at San Francisco yesterday decided to hold their next annual meeting at Los Angeles.

And now it is said that the wily Chinaman is stuffing the registration books with false names in order that newcomers may be admitted.

Silver has again dropped below the lowest recorded price and even the Britishers are becoming anxious.

Killed by the Sun.

(Lines suggested by a resident of Los Angeles, Cal. speak of his home as "the sun-kissed land.")

Away from the din of the battle of life,
Where the fortunes are woven and spun, Where brain, heart and soul become numb'd in the strife,
Lie the land that is kissed by the sun.

There are covered mountains, like sensilea, stand,
As if guarding the booty they've won;
Those valleys that lie in the new "promised land."

The "fair land that is kissed by the sun."

The flowers lend their fragrance, the trees lend their shade,
To the rivers which peacefully run
Where all seems combined in paradise made.

In "the land that is kissed by the sun."

A foretaste of heaven is revell'd in there,
True joy of nature of heaven begun,
And men seem more gentle, and women more fair.

In "the land that is kissed by the sun."

Then pause, weary wanderer, rest here awhile!
Thou mayst dream that thy day's work
For nature will cheer the bruised heart
In "the land that is kissed by the sun."

Fair "City of Angels," thy charms I shall see,
When novices in Eden thy people must be.

In "the land that is kissed by the sun." —J. H. Barnes, in New York Herald.

Sun Spots Lesser Annual Heat.

(Astrophysical Register.) It has been observed that, after the sun spots have been at a minimum, the summers are hotter, just as though there was more heat coming from the sun at such periods, and the fact has been accounted for by supposing that sun spots are caused by great winds that are erupted from the sun and condensed in the surrounding space. These act as screens and prevent the sun's heat from radiating freely through them.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Statements Corrected.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—To the Editor of The Times:—"The Disgusted Parent," who wrote a letter to The Times yesterday about the High School has been misinformed, and I desire to correct some of his statements. He says the air is thick with rumors, which is all true, but the rumors are not all correct. He says the High School should be a matter of deep interest to the citizens, but we think there are very few who manifest any such interest.

The criticisms of the public should be received with interest. He says that the press has been out of political life all around, but if he will inquire of any of the teachers who have been here during the previous year he will find that it is nothing more than what has occurred with every graduating class.

I say that there is a lady teacher in the school who does not set an example of womanly dignity and propriety is a very grave charge and cannot be proved. If the principal does not command the respect of the pupils let the "disgusted parent" take the opinion of one of the members of the class that has just graduated, and he will find that they will all speak of him in the warmest terms of respect.

In regard to the order and discipline some of the teachers who have been in the school during the past few years have been very good, but it is as good as it has ever been, before.

He says that students in the English course are told that they must take a foreign language, which is not so. Neither is it true that those who take Latin and gained the privilege of a modern language.

The laws of health are indeed of prime importance, but when pupils have had eight years of physiology in the primary and grammar grades (as the "disgusted parent" will see by the last annual report) they are to be ready to discontinued. The time that four students were too much for their children. If pupils waste one-fourth of their time it is the fault of the parent and not of the teachers.

If there is any danger that the High School will be dropped from the "accredited list" the University of California this will be news to the Board of Education and to the faculty of the High School.

Opinions differ widely, even among educators, as to how many studies a pupil ought to be required to take. Pupils in the High School are allowed to take four or five. Many parents presents were received. Dancing was indulged in and later refreshments were served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carson, Mrs. M. D. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Noyes, Mrs. Ida Banning, Winston, Ida Smith, Etta Mendy, Blackwell, Lynch; Messrs. R. A. Chadwick, Felix, Notman, Harry Schumacher, Harry Weyman, Percy Schumacher, H. Lichtenberger, H. E. Carter, J. C. Dockweiler, P. J. Watson, W. M. Potter, Dr. Lasher and William K. Schotef.

SURPRISE PARTY.

The second of the series of lectures by Dr. David Starr Jordan on "Evolution" attracted an audience at Unity Church last evening even larger than that in attendance at the first.

Dr. Jordan said, in speaking of "heredity," the subject announced for the evening, that it was the principle that held different stages together. It prevented sudden progress, and also not permit sudden retrogression.

A man usually received about 25 per cent. of the qualities which he possessed from his mother, and an equal amount from his father; about 6 per cent. was received from each of his grandparents and a greater or lesser amount from his more remote ancestors. There is also in each individual certain inclinations to go without himself.

It was well known that every living being had descended from a germ of some sort. It was also known that each germ would reproduce with fidelity the being from which that germ was cast off.

After treating of some of the older ways by which heredity was explained, the speaker said that a germ at each stage of its growth would have an appearance like that of some other living being. The law of mutual dependence played a prominent part in heredity.

Touching upon protoplasm, he said they were very minute. They would absorb nutriment through their skins, but as they grew larger they could become more and more efficient to keep them alive. At the oldest stage of their development, they would divide into separate protoplasm. Each of these, however, is insignificant, and by a congregation of them a part of the cell can perform one function and another part of them another. Other protoplasmic cells are to be understood to be for the growth and life of protoplasm were favorable, there would be a sufficient number of them in a drop of stagnant water to fill the ocean in about two weeks' time.

But an angle-worm in two parts, and the two are two separate angle-worms. This, however, was not done in the case of the larger animals.

It was seen that as the cell came to maturity assist each other, they would become mutually dependent.

It had been demonstrated that the nucleus in the cell is a part of the cell, and can be transferred to another cell of another species. The nucleus was seen to be the seat of the cell's life.

After thirty couples enjoyed the reception and dance given to the young ladies of Miss Marsh's school last Saturday of the first half of the school year, the school room was used for dancing, while the rest of the house was thrown open to those who preferred cards and other games to the delights of the dance.

Mrs. Sarah A. Hibbet and her niece, Miss Reid of Indianapolis, Ind., are spending the winter at the Southern Hotel.

Mr. Miller and family of Newcastle are in the city the guests of Hon. Charles Phillips.

SOCIAL RECORD.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

Miss Kate E. Stevenson, daughter of F. C. Stevenson, and Irving Gearhart of this city, formerly of Illinois, were married by W. B. Barber, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, at the parsonage at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The wedding was a quiet affair, only a few intimate friends being present. Mr. and Mrs. Gearhart have the best wishes of their many friends in this locality.

DINNER AND DANCING PARTY.

One of the most delightful events of the social season preceding Lent, was the dinner and dancing party given by the Misses Carson in honor of their friends, the residents of Los Angeles, at their residence, Dominguez Ranch, last Saturday evening. Their beautiful home was brilliantly illuminated.

The floral decorations were especially fine, being the choicest plants and flowers from their own conservatory. Guests arrived on the evening train from Los Angeles, Colton and Redlands, and after partaking of an elaborate dinner, adjourned to the drawing-rooms and halls, cantered for the occasion, where dancing was indulged in until midnight, when supper was served. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Del Amo, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carson, Mrs. M. D. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. SURPRISE PARTY.

The second of the series of lectures by Dr. David Starr Jordan on "Evolution" attracted an audience at Unity Church last evening even larger than that in attendance at the first.

the speaker said that a germ at each stage of its growth would be the seat of the cell's life.

It was seen that as the cell came to maturity assist each other, they would become mutually dependent.

It had been demonstrated that the nucleus in the cell is a part of the cell, and can be transferred to another cell of another species. The nucleus was seen to be the seat of the cell's life.

After thirty couples enjoyed the reception and dance given to the young ladies of Miss Marsh's school last Saturday of the first half of the school year, the school room was used for dancing, while the rest of the house was thrown open to those who preferred cards and other games to the delight of the dancing.

It was seen that as the cell came to

maturity assist each other, they would

become mutually dependent.
